My Owner used to run Windows...

Now he runs Ubuntu!

The dog in the pictures is Brandy, a five year old White Shepard. His owner is one of many who have replaced Microsoft Windows with Ubuntu, a modern operating system for ordinary people. You too can use Ubuntu, it's free!
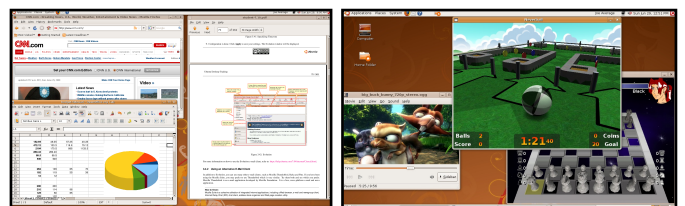

Ubuntu is a Linux based operating system which is free, easy to use, has no viruses and comes with all the programs that most people need. Gone are the days when Linux could only be used by experts – Ubuntu is for everyone, no matter what their language or technical skills.

Ubuntu is easily installed on most PCs in less than an hour and is immediately ready to use because hardware and accessories such as printers, digital cameras and mp3-players are automatically detected.

Viruses, spyware and license fees are things of the past with Ubuntu. Ubuntu is a very configurable system which is fun to use and like MTV's rides is totally pimpable. It has therefore attracted a large and active community of users.

Ubuntu includes thousands of free programs which encourage learning and creativity, and are easily downloaded with just a few mouse clicks.

Over 6 million people have already discovered the power and freedom of Ubuntu, you could be next!

Read more at:
www.ubuntu.com

This advert is made in Ubuntu using the desktop publishing program Scribus and the graphics package GIMP.

ubuntu
linux for human beings