

Ubuntu: At the forefront of the Linux Desktop Revolution

The Ubuntu logo is a large, stylized figure composed of several overlapping, rounded shapes in shades of orange, red, and pink. It is positioned in the background of the slide, behind the text.

Origin of the word “Ubuntu”

Ubuntu is an ancient African (Zulu) word meaning:

“Humanity towards others...”

“I am what I am because of who we all are...”

We believe in a universal bond of sharing that connects all humanity!

Soft Power Korea

Ubuntu in a Nutshell

- Community developed, commercially supported
- The best desktop linux experience
- Rock-solid server platform
- Based on Debian Unstable (sid)
- Frequent, predictable releases
- GNOME Desktop (KDE is officially supported)
- We give back to Debian as we go (not only at release time)
- Strong commitment to Free Software philosophy, localization, and accessibility

Mark Shuttleworth
(Yes, he's a Cosmonaut)

- Long-time Debian Developer
- He founded Thawte in 1995 and sold it to Verisign in 1999
- Went to space in 2002 as a member of the Soyuz TM-34 mission
- Started Ubuntu (the Linux distribution) in 2004

Soft Power Korea

The Ubuntu Commitment

- Ubuntu will always be free of charge, and there is no extra fee for the "enterprise edition", we make our very best work available to everyone on the same Free terms.
- Ubuntu includes the very best in translations and accessibility infrastructure that the Free Software community has to offer, to make Ubuntu usable by as many people as possible.

Soft Power Korea

The Ubuntu Commitment

- Ubuntu is released regularly and predictably; a new release is made every six months. You can use the current stable release or the current development release. Each release is supported with security updates for at least 18 months.
- Ubuntu is entirely committed to the principles of free and open source software development; we encourage people to use free and open source software, improve it and pass it on.
