ubuntu community week

oneiric ocelot
July 18 - 22, 2011

Christophe Sauthier

is a long-time Ubuntu community member. He is currently a member of the LoCo Council and leads Ubuntu France. He's a developer and the founder of Objectif Libre, a French company that offers services and training.

location: toulouse france

"We Party Grande! You Can Too"

With every Ubuntu release, community teams plan and organize parties everywhere. However none are quite as famous as those in Paris France with 5000 people in attendance. Let's hear the recipe from the master planner!